DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-3, 5-13, 17-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The term “relatively narrow distance” is vague and without frame of reference. For example, does a potential infringer with distance of one half inch infringe? How about one inch?

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

5. Claims 1-3, 5, 17-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Porsche in view of Kanou.

Porsche has the removable roof 7 of plastic material (page 3, lines 63-76), roll bar 6, windshield frame 2, and has partial interior walls at 17 and 25, leaving the central portion of the roof single panel.

Kanou teaches that a removable roof may be constructed of dual panels 8 and 9, the panels meeting at edge regions only and the panels are spaced apart narrowly and delimited by inwardly expanded interior wall profilings as clearly shown in figures 2,3,6,7,11 and 13. As a result of this prior art reference, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill to provide in Porsche a dual panel edge joined roof as taught by Kanou in order to strengthen the assembly.

As to claims 2-3, this material and adhesive bonding of panels are common knowledge in this art, obvious to use here as a light weight and strong material and as an extremely strong bond.

As to claims 17-20, these features are of common knowledge in the art and not indicative of patentability.

As applicant has not challenged these statements of judicial notice, they are made final.

6. Claims 6-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Porsche in view of Kanou as applied to claim 5 above, and further in view of Perks.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill to provide in the references above a recessed U-shaped mounting in the roof inner panel in order to accommodate a roof locking device as taught by Perks. Motivation is self-evident. Such recessed mounting reduces chance of injury.

7. Claims 9-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Porsche in view of Kanou and Perks as applied to claim 6 above, and further in view of Chrysler, US Re. 32,496.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill to provide in the references above a U-shaped cross section receiving a window seal as taught by Chrysler at 34, figure 8 in order to seal the interior environment.

8. Claim 12 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Porsche in view of Kanou, Perks, and Chrysler as applied to claim 10 above, and further in view of Steyer-Daimler-Puch AG .

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill to provide in the references above dual roof elements as taught by Steyer-Daimler-Puch AG in order to reduce the weight during removal of the roof.

9. Claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Porsche, Kanou, Perks, Chrysler, and Steyer-Daimler-Puch AG as applied to claim 12 above, and further in view of Farber.

Prior to the invention of applicant, Farber taught that the juncture of two roof elements could be sealed by means of a channel member 26 carried by one of the roof elements and comprising a sixth profiling rotated 90 degrees and open toward the other profiling and carrying another sealing body 25, as well as a drain channel 70. As a result, It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill to provide in the references above a seal structure as taught by Farber in order to dispose of inadvertent leakage past the primary seal of two roof elements.

Allowable Subject Matter

10. Claims 14-16 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

11. Applicant's arguments filed 6/13/2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Firstly, the roof of Porsche has partial interior walls at 25,17. The teachings of Kanou are clear in regard to the use of a full interior wall joined at edge regions only and with recesses therein.

The argument that Kanou does not have an inwardly expanded interior wall profiling at the right hand end is traversed. See figures 2, 3, 13 and 16.

Conclusion

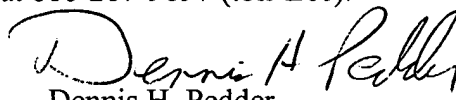

12. This is a RCE of applicant's earlier Application No. 10/716,943. All claims are drawn to the same invention claimed in the earlier application and could have been finally rejected on the grounds and art of record in the next Office action if they had been entered in the earlier application. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL even though it is a first action in this case. See MPEP § 706.07(b). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no, however, event will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
